"SUMMER IN ITALY"

Tuesday, March 1 7:30 p.m.

What comes to mind when you think about summertime in Italy? During the three years that Miriam lived in Italy, she made it her goal to take every opportunity to explore what the country had to offer. By befriending Italians, she learned about the things that make l'estate italiana so special: food festivals, roadside stands, open markets, and long walks in the countryside. Whether you're planning a trip to Italy or just daydreaming about it, come discover how Italians spend their summers.

Taking the mystery out of writing a mystery book for kids

A writing workshop with Jacqueline Dembar Greene

If you want to write a mystery book for middle readers, but don't have a clue how to begin, this is the opportunity for you. Ms. Greene will give pointers and suggest approaches that will help solve the mystery of how to approach or polish a book. In addition to step-by-step guidelines from plotting and characterization to creating villains and foils, she will answer questions and help aspiring authors on the path to preparing books for publication.

The Energetics of Health and Healing

With Leslie Barnett

In order for us to heal, our bodies must have the energy to enable that healing to take place!

Chronic illnesses and pain are health issues that can be associated with low energy and blocked energy fields due to inflammation, infection, trauma and poor nutrition.

Opening these blocked energy fields promotes healing and better health in a natural, non-invasive way.

Leslie Barnett, Health Educator, will discuss the variety of ways that individuals can open these blocked energy fields using Pulsed Electromagnetic Field therapy, nutrition and other strategies.

Catherine Armsden's Dream House

Author Catherine Armsden speaks about her debut novel, "Dream House," a story about family, love, and the power of houses that shape our lives.

"With an architect's eye for the complexities of the spaces we inhabit and a poet's gift for language, Armsden confronts, dissects, and embraces the very idea of home: what it means to have one, to lose one, and ultimately, to make one of our own choosing."

Discussing current events and world politics

The Kurds

Kurdistan, a mountainous area made up of parts of Turkey, Iraq, Iran, and Syria, is home to one of the largest ethnic groups in region: the Kurds.

Now, most in the West know them for their small, oil-rich autonomous region in northern Iraq called Iraqi Kurdistan — one of the U.S.' closer allies in the Middle East and a bulwark against the expansion of the so-called Islamic State.

What does the success of Iraqi Kurdistan mean for Kurds in the surrounding region?

Wicked Pissed!

With Ted Reinstein

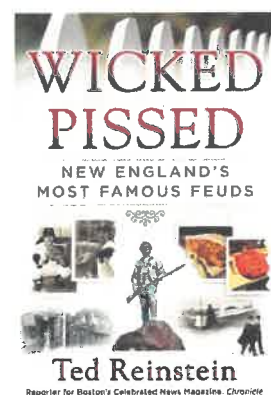

New England is as dotted with colorful and fascinating feuds as it is with low stone walls and big, red barns. And many of them go back just as far! For instance, did you know that the Breeds and the Bunkers are still fighting over a hill? Or that the revolution is still being fought—by Lexington and Concord?!

Monday

We have over 1,000 subtitled foreign-language films in our collection. We're sometimes asked, "Why not sort them by language?" Well, we've now done just that--virtually, at least. In the Movies section of our website (under Services and Beyond Books), you'll find a link to a handy table of 16 different languages. Each of those links to a list of our films in that language. The method for making the lists isn't perfect, so please forgive the occasional error. Geniet van de voorstelling! (That's Dutch for "Enjoy the show!")

First public library in Massachusetts / Founded in 1848

WELCOME TO OUR NEW DIRECTOR, DANA MASTROIANNI

Dana comes to the library with vast and varied experience. She was most recently the Assistant Director of the Needham Public Library, where (among many other things) she oversaw daily operations, spearheaded a number of far-reaching programs, and wrote the library's long-range plan. Before that, she was the Director of the libraries in Topsfield and Dracut. She began her library career cataloging maps for Cartographic Services at Harvard. We've all been wowed by her congeniality, energy, and enthusiasm, and we're sure you will be, too. She's the right person for the next chapter in our history.

Book & Bake Sale

Book donations will be accepted during set-up in the Town Building Large Hearing Room on Wednesday, November 2, and Thursday, November 3. Baked goods will be accepted from Friday until the end of the sale on Sunday.

A FAREWELL TO ANN

After nearly 14 years of dedicated leadership, Director Ann Knight is retiring at the end of October. Ann was hired in 2003 upon the retirement of Louise Brown, after serving as Assistant Director and Head of Reference. In addition to furthering the Library's famously friendly atmosphere and tradition of superb customer service, Ann has seen the WPL through renovations, budget battles, advances in technology, and numerous staff changes, as well as the Great Flood of 2010 and the Horrible Winter of 2015. She has been tireless in her devotion to the Library and to her staff, always lending a receptive ear to their ideas and observations. Her cheerful, calm assurance and ready laugh will be sorely missed.

Please join us for a reception in Ann's honor, with refreshments, live music, and a few short but heartfelt speeches.

A MESSAGE FROM DANA MASTROIANNI

I am excited to be a part of Wayland as the new Library Director. I've met many people in my first weeks and been awed by their warmth in welcoming me to the town. My passion for libraries began when I was six years old and walked with my two sisters to the West Branch Library in Peabody, where I grew up. I read every book I could about sports, science, history, and philosophy, which still greatly interest me. In the days before the internet, I'd get calls from friends who wanted to know how to make milk paint, or where to grow wine grapes, or had all sorts of cooking questions (another of my passions). With my backpack slung over my shoulder, I would head out to the nearest library, where I'd invariably spend hours in the stacks, poring over reference books (this was pre-databases, too) to answer not only my friends' queries, but the many that rambled through my own mind.

While librarianship is a true calling of mine, I also have a deep attachment to the outdoors, enjoying hiking, photography, and mushroom foraging. I'm devoted to family and friends, and my two canine "children": Pearl, a vivacious Boston terrier, and George, a 15-1/2-year-old dachshund who sleeps the days away.

The library will be closed on December 24, 25 and 26 for Christmas. We will close on December 31 at 3 p.m., and will be closed all day January 1 and 2 for New Year's.

ADULT COLORING

Come experience the latest trend in relaxation: adult coloring! Enjoy a peaceful hour coloring in the company of others. Coloring pages, pencils and markers available. We'll meet on the newly created meeting space on the mezzanine.

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY BOOK AND BAKE SALE—ANOTHER SUCCESS!

Thanks to the patrons and volunteers who made the recent book sale a smashing success. More than 120 individuals (and countless book donors and shoppers) contributed to make this popular community event the place to go on the weekend of November 4-6.

Special kudos to the sorting crew (Beth Barovick, Emily Kristofek, Jane Sciacca, newly retired Ellen Scult and Rachel Sideman-Kurtz, Gretchen Sterling, and Peg Von Rohr) who process book donations throughout the year — they insure the quality of the books sold which makes all the shoppers very happy. Also thanks to Carole Kaye who does the special pricing, Linda Kiernan who single-handedly puts the children's books into order each sale, and book sale co-chairs, Anne Heller and Carole Schneider.
